

ELKS ELECT OFFICERS

ANNUAL ELECTION FINDS LODGE 1289 B. P. O. E. PROSPEROUS AND INCREASING

More than 300 members attended the meeting of the local Elks' lodge Monday night, in the Elks' hall. It was the occasion of the annual election of officers and much interest was taken in the affair. Stephen C. Packer, exalted ruler of the past year, presided, and the whole proceedings were characterized by that harmony and goodwill that are characteristic of this fraternal order.

As a result of the balloting Mr. George H. Melford was elected exalted ruler; Albert D. Pearce, esteemed leading knight; Bert P. Woodard, esteemed loyal knight; J. Herbert Smith, esteemed lecturing knight; R. D. Clements, secretary; Herman Nelson, treasurer; Hosea Steelman, tyler; John Roman, trustee for three years.

Mr. Stephen C. Packer, past exalted ruler, was elected delegate to the National convention of the Grand Lodge at Baltimore and Peter L. Ferry, past exalted ruler, was elected alternate for the same convention.

It was reported that the public had responded heartily to the invitation to attend the All-star vaudeville show given last week in the Palace-Grand theater and that the net proceeds after paying all expenses would be more than $700, which is considerably in excess of what was expected and will make a very handsome addition to the Elks' building fund.

The evening was spent in enjoying a pleasing entertainment of music, both instrumental and vocal, and in discussing the future. It was agreed that never have things looked more bright for the order than they do this year. Numbers are added monthly to the society and there is every prospect that this prosperity and growth will continue.

FANCY WORK PARTY

Mrs. R. E. Frey, 1538 Pioneer Drive, is entertaining the Pioneer Fancy Work club this afternoon. This is a select club of ladies of the Pioneer Drive district that meets for the purpose of doing fancy work for church and charitable purposes. A pleasing program has been arranged and a pleasant social time is assured. Those present are: Mrs. Potter, Mrs. Vinton, Mrs. Shepard, Mrs. Herbert Whitaker, Mrs. Andrea, Mrs. Letton, Mrs. Willisford, Mrs. Hoagland, Mrs. Brubaker, Mrs. Rathbone, Mrs. Chappell, Mrs. Van Dyke, Sr., Mrs. Van Dyke, Jr., Mrs. O'Neill of Los Angeles, Mrs. Beckwith of Pasadena, Mrs. Clements of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Scovern of Tropico and Mrs. Lane of Fullerton.

PACIFIC AVENUE ROAD

Members of the West Glendale church were present at the meeting of the board of trustees of the City of Glendale Monday evening, asking that the Pacific avenue road be repaired so it will be made passable. J. E. Henderson, Rev. H. J. Hartwell and H. F. Adams addressed the board at length, setting forth valid reasons why this street needs attention. Other interested persons present were Mrs. Lillian Doty, Mrs. D. E. Johnston, D. E. Johnston, and R. B. Hammond. A motion prevailed that city manager Watson be instructed to ascertain the cost of making the needed improvements on Pacific avenue from Broadway to Colorado street.

GLENDALE CHORAL CLUB CONCERT

Glendale Choral club will give its second concert of this season, in the Glendale Union High School auditorium. The elaborate cantata, "The May Queen," the most pretentious undertaking of the club to date, will be given, under the able direction of Mr. J. B. Poulin. The club consists of about forty members. Besides the cantata other special numbers will be given. Watch the columns of The Glendale Evening News for further announcements.

METHODIST LADIES' AID

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church will hold their regular monthly meeting this evening at the church. An excellent program will be rendered and light refreshments will be served. This meeting is being held over a week earlier in the month than usual on account of the pastor's request that no social meetings be held during the week preceding the opening of the revival.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Wednesday; north winds.

LECTURE ON LIFE WORK

TRAFFIC MAN SPEAKS AT INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL ON "TRANSPORTATION AS A VOCATION"

Those who were present at the Intermediate school Friday, March 3, at 8 p. m., had the pleasure of listening to a highly informing and interesting lecture on "Transportation as a Vocation," given by an expert in the business of transportation, B. F. Sawyer, assistant traffic manager of the Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles. Mr. Sawyer gave a valuable treatise on this section of life work. He said:

Boys and girls, you are like the man who lost his footing at the eleventh story of a building upon which he was working and fell down the air-shaft. As he passed the second floor, his fellow workmen heard him say: Here comes the bump!

You are progressing through the grades of school life on to the High School and, I trust, on to the university, but at the end of it all comes the bump, and that bump is practical work. It is to make this progression easier from school work to life work that a great movement for vocational education is sweeping over our land. It is along this same line that your principal is inviting men like myself to speak to you, that we may give you some definite idea of what lies before you, how you shall prepare yourselves for it, and what rewards your preparation is calculated to bring you.

Some twenty years ago I left a preparatory school, away up in Maine, to make my first contact with the vocational field I am to speak of tonight—transportation. I cleared from Delaware Breakwater, upon my father's ship, which was outward bound to Nagasaki, in Japan, carrying a cargo of case oil. That is typical of water transportation. You are all familiar with the puffing locomotives that pull long trains of freight cars, or the speedy passenger trains that make New York nearer to us than the northern end of our state was before the railroad came to Los Angeles. They typify land transportation.

Now in the commercial world there are three great elements: Finance, or money; commerce, or the products of the farm, forest or mine, or of manufacture, which we buy and sell, and transportation; that is, the movement of persons or property from one point to another. The greatest of these is transportation—why? Because if I have money and can only invest it, say here in Glendale, and every one else here must do the same thing, the money soon becomes of little value to me; if I have these commodities of commerce and no means of reaching the points where production is limited and consumption great, then I have no incentive to produce more than enough to supply local needs.

The beginning of civilization, as we know it, dates back to the time when man, weary of his burden, threw it across the back of an animal and found that it divided equally in the form of a pack; or when, doubtless to escape an involuntary bath, he sprang to the floating log and found that it supported his weight. This probably gave him the idea of hollowing it out, perhaps by means of fire, to make it a means of transportation and carriage. Since that time transportation has blazed the path for civilization.

Transportation is, therefore, a useful occupation or pursuit.

Now to what may this pursuit or vocation be likened. In modern practice it is very much like a military career. You heard Mr. Saltmarsh speak upon the subject of military training, last Friday night, and probably learned that it is founded upon a system; that a military body possesses organization. So each transportation company possesses an organization very similar to an army. Its president is its commander-in-chief, its Board of Directors is its Board of Strategy; its vice-presidents are commanders of departments, and under them are division commanders called Freight Traffic Managers, Passenger Traffic Managers, General Managers, General Auditors, Secretaries, Treasurers and Chief Engineers, and corps commanders known as General Superintendents, General Freight Agents, General Passenger Agents, Auditors of various departments, and so on down to the rank and file, which, in the case of railroads, embraces trainmen and station employees, to which the dock, deck and engineer employees of a steamship line correspond, together with the great army of clerical help, which is common to both rail and water.

HOUSE WILL SUPPORT PRESIDENT WILSON

REPRESENTATIVES INDICATE THAT M'LEMORE RESOLUTION WILL BE DEFEATED OVERWHELMINGLY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Two administration victories in the house of representatives today are taken as indications that the House will comply with the president's demand and kill the McLeMORE resolution warning Americans to keep off armed merchant ships. It is understood that the debate on the resolution will be over by 6 p. m. The administration is confident that notwithstanding the intriguing of William Jennings Bryan and the joining of a certain republican element with the rebellious Democrats there will be a further victory for the president and his advisers.

GERMANS CAPTURE SMALL FRENCH POSITION

TEUTONS SEIZE HILL 265 NEAR RANGEVILLE AND FURIOUSLY BOMBARD POSTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, March 7.—After an attack in overwhelming force the Germans today captured Hill 265, near Rangeville. The French positions on Goose hill are under a terrific bombardment. The French retreated to Goose hill, the village of Bethincourt, Corbeaux and Comieres forests. The Germans are now centering their fire on those positions.

GERMANS CAPTURE VILLAGE OF FRESNES

BERLIN WAR OFFICE ANNOUNCES TAKING OF POSITION 17 MILES SOUTHEAST OF VERDUN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, March 7.—It was officially announced by the war office today that German troops had taken possession of the village of Fresnes, 17 miles southeast of Verdun. Three hundred French soldiers surrendered under a terrific bombardment. The whole region between Bethincourt and the Meuse has been vigorously shelled and the village of Forges, nine miles northwest of Verdun, has been taken. These two points indicate an offensive line of 26 miles.

WAR SECRETARY OFF TO WASHINGTON

NEWTON BAKER LEAVES CLEVELAND, OHIO, TO ASSUME DUTIES OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 7.—Newton Baker, the newly appointed secretary of war, whom President Wilson has selected as Garrison's successor, left this city today for Washington. In the course of an interview before leaving he stated that he believed in government military railways, in the Swiss military system of service and in peace by force if necessary.

BAKER'S NOMINATION SENT TO SENATE

PRESIDENT WILSON PLACES APPOINTMENT OF SECRETARY OF WAR BEFORE SENATORS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—Newton Baker's nomination as secretary of war was sent to the Senate this afternoon for confirmation. There seems little doubt that it will be confirmed, although Baker is looked upon with considerable distrust by the peace-at-any-price senators, who think the Cleveland man is dangerously enamored of preparedness.

CHINESE TONG LEADER ASSASSINATED

HOP SING TONG MEN OF SAN FRANCISCO SHOOT DONG LOY, HEAD OF FUY ONG TONG

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—Hop Sing tong men this morning shot and killed Wong Loy, the leader of the Fuy Ong tong. In this way they avenged the killing of the Hop Sing tong men last night. The tong war rages furiously over the whole Chinese quarter and the police have been unable to do anything to bring it to an end.

AUSTRALIAN RECRUITS IN SERIOUS RIOT

CURIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES ACCOMPANIED OVERRUNNING OF CORONADO FERRY BY PROMOTER'S CAR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—The police of this city are investigating all the circumstances surrounding the death of Benjamin Crocker, amusement promoter, who was killed when his car overran the Coronado ferryboat last night. It is hoped to fix responsibility for the accident on some one.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

RECEIVE COMMUNICATION FROM SUPERVISORS ON SEWER QUESTION

The regular meeting of the board of trustees of the City of Glendale was held in the city hall Monday evening, March 6, 1916. Present, O. A. Lane, president of the board, and Trustees Chas. Grist, J. S. Thompson, A. W. Tower and Geo. Williams. Also present, T. W. Watson, city manager; J. C. Sherer, city clerk; W. E. Evans, city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager of Public Service department; Edw. M. Lynch, city engineer; A. H. Lankford, fire marshal.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

A communication was read from the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, addressed to the Governing Bodies of various Incorporated Cities, notifying them of the fact that the Board of Supervisors have recently appointed a Board of Sanitary Engineers to prepare and submit plans for the disposal of sewage in all portions of the County of Los Angeles, and requesting that the board appoint delegates to be present and represent the city at a conference to be held on Monday, March 13 next at 10:00 o'clock a. m. in the office of the Board of Supervisors. On motion of Trustee Grist, the city attorney and city engineer were appointed to represent the city at this meeting.

A committee was present from the West Glendale Methodist church, and Mr. J. E. Henderson of the committee presented resolutions adopted by the church in regard to the condition of Pacific avenue between Broadway and Colorado street, stating that the street at that point is in such condition as to make traffic almost impossible and to actually endanger life; the same being caused by flood waters from other streets into Pacific avenue in time of storm to such an extent to endanger church property and its parsonage.

Rev. A. J. Hartsell and Mr. Adams spoke on the subject. On motion of Trustee Tower, the city manager was instructed to prepare an estimate for putting in culverts and grading of the street, and also the difference in cost between oiling and sprinkling on Pacific avenue between Broadway and Colorado street, and to make a report at the next regular meeting.

The city engineer was also instructed by motion of Trustee Thompson, to make an estimate of the cost of the curb, sidewalks, grading and culverts on same street between the points named and present a report at the next regular meeting.

On motion of Trustee Williams the petition was ordered to be filed.

On motion of Trustee Thompson it was ordered that the bids for city printing be opened, read and publicly declared.

Bids were opened and read as follows:

Glendale Evening News: All notices required to be published in a daily newspaper, per inch, 35c.

Tri-City Progress: All notices not required to be published in a daily newspaper, 12½c.

Glendale Press: All notices not required to be published in a daily newspaper, 24c.

On motion of Trustee Tower, it was ordered that the bid of the Glendale Evening News for 35 cents an inch in the daily and of the same concern of 12½ cents per inch in the Tri-City Progress for weekly publications, be accepted and contract entered into accordingly. The motion was adopted.

The following reports from city officials were read, and on motion, ordered to be filed: Building inspector, city clerk, city recorder and health officer.

The city manager presented a resolution of the board of trustees of the City of Glendale providing for the organization of the Glendale Police Department, and for salary or compensation of the members thereof, which, upon motion of Trustee Tower, was adopted.

The city manager also presented a resolution embodying rules for the Police Department, and upon motion of Trustee Tower "A Resolution of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale adopting rules and regulations for the government of the Glendale Police Department," was taken up for reading and upon motion of Trustee Thompson was adopted.

The manager of the Public Service department reported that the second well on the city's property on San Fernando road had been completed, but not yet tested.

MEMBERS ARE LOYAL

GARDEN SOCIETY FINDS WILLING WORKERS TO PLOW VACANT LOTS

The Garden Society rejoices in the sterling qualities and loyal assistance of its members. Ever since its inception, its president has longed for an opportunity of securing a group of vacant lots on Brand boulevard and of finding willing workers to convert the vacant property into a natural beauty spot which might serve as an object lesson in civic beauty.

The opportunity was slow in coming; but it arrived last week in the shape of a gift of a quantity of California poppy seed from Professor Schufeldt of Los Angeles. Then things began to hustle. The agent of the vacant lots on the west side of Brand boulevard, south of Fifth street, gave permission to have the property used by the Garden society. Mr. Hugh Cornwell of Howard street most kindly promised to loan his team for the ploughing of the lots; and Judge Harry Miller, one of our most active members, offered to do the ploughing. So on Saturday from midday to sun-down Judge Miller was to be seen ploughing.

On Monday evening the seed was sown. It may be too late in the season for the plants to mature; but it is to be hoped that nature will reward the efforts made by Mr. Cornwell and Judge Miller and that abundant bloom may ensue. The corner lot was not available for this purpose, but the parking on Fifth street has been sown to poppies.

The Garden Society now calls for volunteers to meet together, at a stated time, to dig up or hand-plow the parking on Brand boulevard parallel to the lots just worked over, and to plant same with petunias. A hundred young plants of petunias have been already promised, and one hand-plow is available. Mrs. Nanno Woods can supply two willing male workers; Mr. J. Beldin and son have also promised their sturdy assistance.

Will four more men volunteer their spades and themselves to work for a couple of hours some evening this or next week? We want men actuated by civic pride and a get-together spirit. Offers of help will be received gladly at Headquarters, 1111 W. Broadway, Glendale 1357; and final details will be arranged at the Reception to be given by the Garden society on this coming Thursday evening, March 9, at the Chamber of Commerce, to which all members and friends are cordially invited.—NANNO WOODS, president.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION

The General Richard Gridley Chapter, D. A. R., will hold their regular monthly meeting Wednesday, March 8, at 2 o'clock at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Mary H. Braly. The chapter has been most fortunate in securing Col. Saltmarsh of Hollywood to speak to them on the subject of "Preparedness." Mrs. Story, president-general, has requested that every chapter have some one speak to them on this subject and the local chapter is indeed fortunate in securing some one so well informed as Col. Saltmarsh. All the members of the chapter are urged to be present and bring guests. There will be a social hour in addition to the address of the afternoon, with music and refreshments. Mrs. Braly opens her home for this meeting and though not able to assume the active duties of a hostess, she has appointed a hospitality committee to assist her. Mesdames Houston, Preston, Chapman, Leppelman and Maranville will perform the duties of this committee.

DEATH OF JOHN VAN EVERY

Mr. John Van Every, who is better known to the friends of the family of Dr. Lauer, 1427 Burchett street, as Mrs. Lauer, senior's, brother, died last night in Los Angeles, after an illness of brief duration. Mr. Van Every was 75 years of age. Mr. Samuel Lauer of Elsinore has arrived in Glendale for the funeral.

PROF. LOWINSKY TO PLAY

Professor Lowinsky of 238 S. Central, violin virtuoso, has most kindly consented to render some charming violin selections at the Reception given by the Glendale Garden society at the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening, March 9. The piano is being generously loaned by Mr. C. O. Pulliam. The Garden society thanks its good friends for their most valuable cooperation.

PROGRESS OF THE WAR IN EUROPE

All the interest of the war during the past two weeks has centered round the desperate fighting in the vicinity of Verdun, where the French are battling to hold the Germans back from breaking their line. The great fortress of Verdun is the key to this position and round it are miles upon miles of trenches and wire entanglements. The battle for the plateau of Douaumont has cost the lives of thousands of men on both sides and although the German big guns battered the fort at Douaumont to pieces they have not been able to secure the plateau.

There is evidence of a further movement to envelope the fortress on the flanks and as this progresses it is likely that there will develop another battle in which thousands of lives will be sacrificed. As all attention has been centered on Douaumont the steady progress of the Russians toward Trebizond has almost escaped notice; but that is a significant movement and will, if successful, result in the driving of the Turks out of a territory that is vital to their defense of Constantinople.

Meanwhile there is a small British force shut up in Kut-el-Amara toward which city another British force is slowly advancing in the face of a rainy season and heavy floods in the Euphrates valley. Should these forces join they will drive on toward Bagdad between which city and them lie strong bodies of Turkish troops.

There are reports that the Turks are heartily sick of their share of the campaign in which they are getting many hard knocks without any prospect of compensation. This is merely a report in the same category as the story of Edhem Pasha's assassination. Since Constantinople has been shut up the few stories that come out reach the outer world by way of Berlin.

Another Zeppelin raid on England is evidence that the Teutons have not given up hope of damaging property in the British islands. The killing of a few civilians now and then is not likely to shorten the war. To all appearance the war will continue another year at least as there is no appearance of any slackening of preparations for continuing the struggle.

HOW A CITY MAY BE ADVERTISED

In an interview published in the Glendale Evening News, Saturday, March 4, Mr. W. Van Heemsbergen, a recent arrival in this city from New York, stated that the reason he came to Glendale to settle was because a conductor on the train told him that Glendale was a good place to live. Mr. Van Heemsbergen is the kind of citizen that any community would be glad to welcome and the more men of his kind a city has within its bounds the richer it is in those qualities that make for civic good.

It should be a lesson to the people of Glendale to hear of how a word spoken in due season brought the merits of the city before a stranger who might have gone to Pasadena or any of the neighboring towns just as easily. There is nothing like judicious advertising and Glendale might spend some money to advantage in getting the merits of its community and the beauties of its natural situation, the purity of its water, the fine equipment of its schools and its other advantages before the constant succession of prospective settlers from the East.

It should be possible to get literature advertising the city on the trains that daily arrive from the East. It should also be possible to interest some of the railway officials in the district and to get conductors and others on the trains to speak in recommendation of this city as a first-class domestic center free from all obnoxious elements, characterized by a marked absence of serious and even of petty crime—a city of churches, schools and homes. These are the qualities which the best class of settler most desires and if such settlers can be persuaded that in Glendale they can find such surroundings they will doubtless decide to make this city their home.

It was judicious advertising that made Los Angeles grow so rapidly into a city with more than 500,000 inhabitants. Los Angeles is better known in Paris and Berlin than even San Francisco simply because the businessmen of Los Angeles saw to it that it was advertised in every possible manner. In New York City a big ad on the side of one of the prominent buildings on Broadway told of the merits of Los Angeles to the easterners. Similar advertising, perhaps not on so large a scale, would work wonders for Glendale.

rank and file—that every soldier carried in his knapsack a marshal's baton—is true of this great army. The commanders all rise from the ranks. But as the army, in the United States, alone, is nearly two million strong, it is very evident that they cannot all attain these coveted positions. So the question arises: What personal characteristics are necessary to success in the location?

I answer, unhesitatingly: To think clearly, listen well and act decisively.

Now these are not inherent qualities, but matters of cultivation, and now is the time for you to cultivate them. For instance, of what you read from a text book, or what your teachers tell you, how much can you sit down and write out in your own words—not as a memorandum, but as a test of what you have grasped? Grover Cleveland followed this system in the study of law and when he started he could probably reproduce little more than the dullest boy or girl in Glendale, but he re-read the page, tried reproducing it again and again, until he gained skill to master page after page with little more than one reading. That is where he gained his surety and command as a trial lawyer, and his preparation for the higher places which he later attained, where it was essential that he should grasp clearly the matters of state that came under his hands. Now as to listening: There is a great deal said about the possibilities of the youth who asks questions. If he listens attentively, considers the whole matter in his own mind and then asks with respect to that which he cannot think out for himself, it is a virtue; but if he wastes the time his informant is talking in framing questions, to the exclusion of that which, had he grasped it, would have made his questions unnecessary, he is forming a pernicious habit that, in all probability, will cost him a job some day.

Decisive action, too, is a matter of training. Indecision is a habit and one, insanity experts tell us, that leads to softening of the brain, if indulged. Whatever you are called upon to do in the class room, fix your mind upon it and act promptly. You will find in after life that an employer prefers a poor idea, carried into effect at the right moment, to a brilliant one that died unborn. In my own transportation experience I have seen serious errors of judgment forgiven, but never those of neglect.

Now as to preparation: The transportation field offers a wide range of employment. There is no practical school training that is not preparation for one of its branches. The graduate of a technical or scientific school finds footing in the Mechanical, Motive Power, Maintenance or Engineering Departments. The graduate of a law school finds opportunity for specializing along the line of Tax and Title law, Contracts, Damages, or Commerce Law; where he gains valuable experience and a salary that gives him an assured income. The Commercial School graduate, whether boy or girl, can find employment along the lines of accounting or stenography in every transportation department, for some form of accounting is an adjunct of practically every department, and there are never sufficient competent stenographers to meet the demand. Even as an accountant, you will find a mastery of the typewriter an asset, for there is hardly a form of report, in modern transportation practice, that is not typewritten.

Primarily, I recommend a thorough grounding in elementary mathematics. I remember a young man from High School who was sent to our local baggageman as an assistant, back at the local railroad depot where I first entered railroad service. He was given a column of some ten or twelve figures to add and, after three painful attempts, secured three different footings. The horny handed baggageman, who had been denied even a complete common school training, stopped his work, snatched the paper from the boy's hands and cast up the double column at one operation, then, turning to me, said: "I wish they had sent me a man, instead of a high school kid. That is the point: The boy had not only failed in an elemental matter, but he had brought disrepute on his school and prejudiced the employment of worthy boys for the future."

Supplementing this, you should write a rapid, legible hand, spell correctly, and be able to express yourselves clearly and tersely in conversation or in a business letter. This is the age of the telephone and the typewriter, and these accomplishments are essential, wherever you may be placed.

In conversation with my superior, Mr. Gregson, some time since, I remarked upon several young men in the employ of the Santa Fe Railway who have attained positions where they are in line for advancement to the highest places that company can confer. He said: "Yes, when I was chief of the Freight Department, here, I selected them from stations along the line upon the strength of their weekly letters, reporting to my Department." Mind you, he did not know them, personally, but their letters had commanded his attention.

Now you boys and girls are looking forward to passing your grades, to a graduation from high school—to some end where you can say: "Hurrah! school work is ended. But school work never ends. The trainman breaks into the transportation ranks as a student brakeman or fireman. He is given a book of rules and is sent out on the line to gain experience. After a short novitiate, he is brought up before the Trainmaster for examination as to the rules and practice. When he seeks promotion to the position of conductor or engineer, he is again examined. In the mechanical department and shops, examinations are always essential to promotion, and regular schools are maintained of mechanical draughting, theory and practice.

In other branches, while you will not meet tests in just this form, you are constantly weighed by your superiors, just as Mr. Gregson was weighing the young men I have mentioned.

When you go from the United States to a foreign country, you must have a passport, and when you reach that country your passport is examined, or vised. Your school training is merely a passport to some useful occupation, and is must be constantly vided by your life work and practical results. When your passport has been accepted, and you have gained a foothold, it depends upon you whether you can hold on. Many times you will find yourselves in much the same position as Pat when he rode the broncho: Mike had an exceedingly bad broncho, and told his friend Pat he could have it if he would ride it. Mike sat on the corral fence and Pat, after several trials, mounted the horse. "Round and 'round the corral he went, his eyes bulging out and both hands tangled in the horse's mane and the bridle, until Mike, worried for his friend, shouted as he came opposite him, "Pat, why don't you jump off?" Again he came 'round and again Mike shouted, "Pat, why don't you jump off?" Pat gasped for breath and shouted back: "Shut up, you fool; how am I going to jump off when it is all I can do to hold on."

Now this is a funny story, but the point is this: Pat was a hero, because he held on when a coward would have found means of sliding off. Then, too, he gained a reward, a horse to ride.

Suppose you start in transportation at a clerk or stenographer at say fifty dollars a month. That job is your horse. If you ride it, beyond you lies another position in the same line that pays seventy-five or eighty dollars; still higher, a chief clerkship at $150.00, and so on up the line to the president of the company, who receives $50,000.00 a year salary, and opportunities for investment that net him much more than his salary. This is your financial objective. Aside from that, is the fact that you are mastering a business that touches intimately

CONGREGATIONAL ACTIVITIES

Sunday morning at Sunday School Miss Mabel Galey, a member of the school who has just returned from an extended visit at Yuma, told of the destitution and suffering of Indians who live at or near Yuma. During the floods of last month these Indians lost much. A generous offering was taken and will be sent to assist these most needy and worthy people.

Next Sunday evening the "Orpheus Four Male Quartet" will give a sacred concert. This is the official quartet of the Orpheus club, the winners of the $3000 International prize at the San Francisco Exposition.

The Woman's Auxiliary will meet at the church Thursday for work. Lunch will be served at noon. Mrs. Blake Franklin, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. M. J. Miner and Mrs. E. M. Witt compose the lunch committee. A business meeting will be held at 1:30 o'clock.

The Brotherhood held a very interesting meeting Monday evening. "Shall Immigration to This Country Be Restricted?" was discussed by Mr. J. E. Storm and Chas. B. Guthrie. The discussion was interesting and edifying. A social time was enjoyed and refreshments served.

BASKETBALL NEARS CLOSE

What will be the last basketball game of the season to be played in the League series in Glendale will take place tonight, at the gymnasium, corner of First and Glendale. This will be played against the strong Westlake team and should prove interesting. It is specially desired that a large attendance witness this game. The local team will require all the encouragement that can be afforded it. The Westlakes are a specially clever combination; but Glendale should beat them. The local team is playing together better now than ever. The Glendale lineup will be: Bidwell and Littell, forwards; Taylor, center; Farnor and Stone, guards. The remaining games of the series will be played in outside centers.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Ash Wednesday, tomorrow, March 8. Services in church as follows: Holy Communion at 7:30 and 9:30 a. m. Evening prayer at 3:30 p. m.

On Friday the Woman's Auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. C. I. Mills, 515 So. Louise street, from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. Litany and meditation in church at 3:30 p. m.

Personals

Miss Mattie Belle Provolt, 608 N. Central, was a week-end guest at the home of Miss Emma King of Park View, Los Angeles.

Mr. I. H. Russell, attorney-at-law, 246 N. Maryland, has been in Covina some days past on professional business.

Mrs. C. B. Guthrie, 1417 Sycamore avenue, is quite ill. She has been confined to her house for more than a week.

Charles Bosserman, young son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy W. Bosserman, who has been quite ill for some time, is still confined to bed, but is showing symptoms of recovery.

Mrs. J. H. Braly, 205 N. Brand boulevard, who has been seriously ill with grippe, is slowly recovering. As the weather improves she hopes to be able to get out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. M. Lee and daughter, Miss Dorothy, and Mr. Lee's mother, Mrs. Wm. Lee, were in Pomona Monday attending the funeral of Jerome Steele.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, 246 N. Maryland avenue, has been invited to speak Thursday, at the South Side Ebell club, Los Angeles, on the subject of "Property Laws Affecting Woman." In the afternoon of the same day Dr. Russell will have as her guest Mrs. J. F. Guy, wife of Judge Guy of San Diego. Mrs. Guy is making a study of the sociological institutions of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wouters, of 1319 N. Central avenue, who recently came to this city from Chicago, are entertaining Senator La Fontaine of Belgium and Mrs. John Sherman, who was at one time a very prominent member of the Chicago school board who is justly famed for her knowledge of all progressive social movements. Mr. Wouters was connected while in Chicago with the Belgian Relief movement.

MILLENNIAL LECTURES

As the Rev. Dr. Edmonds' lectures on the Second Coming of Christ proceed the attendance increases. Indeed, the interest taken in this subject is very marked. Undoubtedly the Spirit of God is moving in the souls of people everywhere at present to stimulate interest in this great promise of the Christian church toward which the followers of Christ in every age have looked forward with eager expectation. The Presbyterian church was filled Monday night with an audience that listened intently to the groundwork lecture of the series.

Dr. Edmonds took up the subject of millennial expectation and promise from the beginning. Rapidly sketching the belief in this doctrine as it existed among the Israelites all through their history on to the coming of Christ and his glorious ascension with the promise that he would again come to the descent of the Holy Spirit and the earnest expectation of the Church throughout the ages that have succeeded.

Dr. Edmonds aimed in this lecture at giving an outline of the whole subject. No details were worked out. The lecturer used a chart in illustrating the lecture and succeeded in presenting a vivid outline of the subject. Having thus prepared the ground, the lecturer will proceed in the subsequent lectures to fill up the outline step by step, leading forward to the signs and events of the present age.

At the close of the lecture the large audience crowded forward to purchase the textbooks and literature on sale in connection with the course of lectures. The interest manifested was wonderful and highly significant of the rush and stir of newly awakened thought in the souls of those who had heard the exposition.

Wednesday afternoons, at 3:15, Dr. Edmonds has a large class of boys and girls, which is going to be an abounding success. On Thursday evenings Dr. Pratt of Pasadena continues his popular and stimulating lectures on "Romans."

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. Enochs wishes to announce to the people of Glendale and vicinity that he has opened an office at 210 Brand boulevard for the special and general practice of medicine.

Dr. Enochs is a gentleman of high educational attainments, being a University and State Normal graduate. He was superintendent of city schools for a number of years and also held the chair of science in a prominent university in Kansas. Where he has practiced medicine he has always occupied a high place in the esteem of his patients and fellow citizens. The doctor practices in three schools of medicine—Alopathic, Eclectic and Homeopathic. In the Alopathic school he is a graduate of Rush Medical College and the University of Chicago. He has been in the general practice of medicine fifteen years, eleven years in Kansas and four years in Santa Ana, Calif. For the last ten years he has given special attention to difficult chronic cases, such as goitre, cancer, obesity, diseases of eye, ear, chest, throat and nose, stomach and liver, diseases of women and children and obstetrics.

Dr. Enochs has rather an innovation in the way of an office, his office being on the ground floor. The doctor hopes this will prove popular and be a great advantage to those who find it difficult to climb long flights of stairs. His office, in the way of modern equipment and apparatus, is equal to any in the city and he offers modern, efficient service in the way of thorough examination, diagnosis and treatment to those who are looking for results. He will make calls promptly anywhere at any time. The doctor would be glad to welcome old and new friends at his office, whether they need medical attention or not. 16711

FUNERAL OF MRS. E. PICKLES

The funeral services of Mrs. Elizabeth Pickles, who died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Whitaker, 914 Damasco court, was held Monday from the Scovern-Letton-Frey Undertaking parlors. Mrs. Pickles was 81 years of age. The Rev. E. H. Willisford officiated and the interment was in Forest Lawn cemetery.

Dr. Enochs, 310 Brand, S. S. 309.

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

There has been quite a deal of business at the Casa Verdugo restaurant recently. The season for visiting guests appears to have set in all of a sudden. Last Sunday quite a number of people motored to the old cafe and had luncheon and dinner in the tastefully furnished rooms. The Strugglers' club is creating a great deal of interest in the community. It meets in the attractive Indian room of the cafe and is likely to be quite a feature in the days to come.

Casa Verdugo has a very beautiful patio with a fountain, palms and flowers and shrubs of every kind. It is the real thing in old Spanish style and makes a fine setting for any style of Spanish picture. This has attracted the attention of various moving picture companies and last week the Vogue company of Hollywood had operators out at the cafe and took many scenes in the patio setting and in the beautiful grounds of the Casa Verdugo. Thursday this week the Universal company is to have a set of pictures taken in the grounds and the patio.

Mr. W. C. Stanks is on the eve of completing a very handsome $1600 residence on Fairview avenue. The house is a six-room affair, with handsome oak finish and all built-in features. The kitchen has all the built-in fittings necessary and a cement composition top to the sink in the most approved sanitary style.

The county authorities are building a road from Pacific avenue to San Fernando road. The work, which is being pushed diligently, is under contract to Moughmer and Roop, who have several gangs with scrapers at work.

Fay and Johnson, who have a residence close to the foothills just north of the residence of Charles H. Toll, are broadening and extending a road which leads to their property. It is a job that requires some dexterity and knowledge of the management of a team and scraper on a steep grade and a narrow road.

Charles H. Toll of Kenneth Road is erecting a full-sized tennis court at the north end of his property. This is a purely family court and will be much taken advantage of by Mr. Toll's family.

All the citrus ranches in the neighborhood of Valley View road are in good shape and considerable work is being done in the way of ploughing between the trees. The Cousins' ranch is busy and the Dutcher ranch is also active and in good shape. Peach trees are in bloom and there is every evidence of rapid growth and promise of fine crops of all kinds of fruits.

R. P. Jones and wife will return to North Glendale in the near future. Mr. Jones is now building a small bungalow on Viola street, which they will occupy.

TROPICO

James D. Stanton of West Park avenue suffered a partial stroke of paralysis early this morning. Dr. A. M. Duncan is attending Mr. Stanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry De Young of Chicago, with Mrs. Dr. Bonhuis, and Misses Dorothy and Ruth Bonhuis of Pasadena, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Van Hazel on Monday.

The Park Avenue Parent-Teacher association is arranging to hold the regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Miss Kinley, instructor in the school, urges all patrons to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl V. Coleman entertained as their guests at their home on Acacia avenue Sunday, at luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Butt. Later a delightful motor trip was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Coleman and their guests. Motoring through-out San Fernando Valley and then through Pasadena, Monrovia, Azusa and El Monte. Nature has donned her spring robes and every hillside, every orchard and grove is radiant in a glorious profusion of bloom and blossoms.

Frank E. Peters of South Glendale avenue, who announced his candidacy for city trustee, is receiving the endorsement and support of a large number of the voters of this city. Mr. Peters has always worked as a good and public spirited citizen of Tropic and his many friends predict that he will work for the best interests of Tropic. There has never been a worthy movement or cause launched in Tropic, since Mr. Peters became a resident here, that has not received his endorsement and assistance. He was a committee appointed to secure purchasing clause in Pacific Light and Power company franchise; committee in Tropic's street carnival; committee on storm water control; committee on extension of Brand boulevard into Los Angeles; committee on float in Elks parade; committee on purchase of lighting plant and committee on purchase of water plant. Frank Peters has certainly been an active citizen.

A reconstruction of the interior of the Evening News office makes it necessary to close out the remaining copies of the 1914 Anniversary numbers. These copies will be distributed free to persons calling for them before Saturday of this week. Children calling for copies must have orders from parents.

When the board adjourns, they adjourn to meet at 6 o'clock p. m., March 7, 1916.

The city engineer presented an ordinance providing for the opening and widening of Sycamore Canyon road. On motion this ordinance was declared read for the first and second times and was laid over till the next regular meeting for the third and final reading.

A request was presented from Mr. L. E. Brockman for permit to build a garage facing on the alley back of Broadway near the Wilson building. On motion of Trustee Tower, the permit was granted.

The city engineer presented an ordinance providing for the opening and widening of Eighth street. On motion this ordinance was declared read for the first and second times and was laid over till the next regular meeting for the third and final reading.

On motion, Ordinance Number 286, "An Ordinance of the City of Glendale changing the name of Lincoln Place to Cameron Place," was ordered to be taken up for third and final reading, and upon being read, was on motion of Trustee Williams, adopted.

The city attorney reported that the interlocutory decree in the matter of the opening and widening of Adams street had been entered. He also presented an ordinance prohibiting the obstruction of water courses, etc. On motion, this ordinance was declared read for the first and second times and was laid over till the next regular meeting for the third and final reading.

On motion, the city engineer was instructed to prepare the necessary resolution for the opening and widening of Adams street.

SEVEN-PASSENGER

In the new SERIES 17 Studebaker Cars, Studebaker for the fifth time in its history, conclusively proves its ability to produce high class cars at moderate prices.

Incorporating a series of refinements in the general design, these cars stand supreme as the QUALITY cars of the season—typical exemplars of the highest development of automobile production by one of the world's ablest and most highly organized manufacturing institutions.

Greatly increased volume coupled with Studebaker's unexcelled manufacturing facilities and experience in designing and manufacturing motor cars of the highest quality have enabled us to offer these new Series 17 models at attractively low prices.

But it has long been axiomatic in the industry that Studebaker QUALITY is never to be measured by Studebaker PRICE—and the new SERIES 17 cars are only to be considered on standards of quality applying to cars for which you are willing to pay much higher prices—as the highest achievement of this GREAT manufacturing institution that for 64 years has held the esteem of the world as a QUALITY manufacturer.

We urge every man who expects to buy a car, no matter at what price, to see the new SERIES 17 models before he decides.

every phase of commercial activity. From the school you have entered graduate executives of great business institutions, bank presidents, consulting engineers and specialized attorneys, whose advice is worth any price they may demand. Socially, you will meet the men who are doing things in the world, and they weigh you by your appearance and address.

But again the likeness to a military career appears, for in transportation employ you must hold yourselves ready to go wherever you may be sent, for the wide range of territory a railroad or steamship line covers, and the location of its departments at different places, makes your advancement depend upon your willingness to do this. In railroad service it is possible for the family to follow the employee, but in actual seafaring service, that is not possible; hence, that employment is not conducive to family ties. I can remember, when I was a little boy but few years of my life were spent with my father, and there were long periods at a time when he was absent from the home. These absences are not so pronounced in modern steamship service, where established lines run upon regular schedule between given ports.

Aside from this feature, the steamship field is one that the American boy may well consider, for the absence of foreign shipping has increased the building of American ships, greatly, and the unhappy condition of Europe will make it necessary for American born officers and men to man them to a great extent.

Then, too, with good commercial training, and a knowledge of modern languages (particularly Spanish) a great field for clerical work is opening to you. In our own office we have a Foreign Trade Department which keeps a Spanish speaking Manager and assistant constantly employed. Through that department has been cleared to Mexico an average of over $100,000.00 worth of merchandise per month, during the past year, and commercial travelers from the business houses we represent are now soliciting trade in Central and South America.

Now, in summing up, we find that transportation offers you boys and girls useful employment in a healthy vocation—for most of its branches are above the average in this respect; that it assures you permanent employment at good wages, with possibilities of advancement to any height your application and abilities merit. That the essential training is just what the public schools afford, for there is no royal road to its high places.

It is true that chairs of transportation have been endowed in modern universities, but these courses, as a rule, deal with the theoretic and economic side, rather than the practical.

To girls, this vocation offers employment in a large, well ventilated offices, where the presence of other feminine employees relieves you from embarrassment, and commands for you wages, at the start, that render you independent.

To the boys who enter any of its branches, the bells of London ring "Turn again, Dick Whittington" for before you is an empire over which you may reign and hold power, reward and honor greater than London's ermined mayor ever possessed.

Boys and girls, in the name of this great army, I salute you. You are the cadets, in training to take our places. Let this be your incentive: That every day's school work well done will save you the bumps of embarrassment and unnecessary work when you shall step into the ranks.

LIVE WITHIN YOUR INCOME

"Live within your income" is the keynote of the great nation-wide thrift movement, and be not so wasteful.

No amount of wealth will replace character. Wealth will never take the place of personal righteousness, but the characteristics of thrift and economy will do more than anything else to bring back the type of American that made New England, and that makes any nation strong and great. And by what we save only can we measure our future wealth, whether as individuals or as a nation.

"MADE IN JAPAN"

It seems almost absurd that many of the textbooks used in our schools should be printed and bound in Japan, and exported to this country, but it is true, since school books can now come into this country free of duty. Objections to the placing of school books on the free list, when first proposed, were met with the argument that the light of education would be made to shine free of tariff impediments and the complaints of the publisher were scorned.

The business of printing American school books has been taken up by Japan—the wonder nation of the East, with its cheap labor and its cheap supplies that cannot be duplicated in this country for many times the cost. They are being reproduced in Japan with Oriental exactitude and exported to the United States for seven cents apiece. The same books, made in America, cost 33 1-3 cents apiece, with all the advantages of American machinery and increased per capita production.—Philadelphia Press.
